

Motivational Interviewing (Foundational Skills)

25 November, 2, 11 and 16 December 2020

Introduction

Developed by William Miller, PhD and Stephen Rollnick, PhD, Motivational interviewing (MI) is an evidence-based, person-centred and goal oriented approach that strengthens personal motivation to change through exploring and resolving ambivalence. Over the past 30 years, there have been 1300 clinical trials involving MI. MI skills are accessible to healthcare professionals through proper training, coaching and objective assessment. This skills-based live interactive course is ideal for people who are new to MI and would like to develop the foundational skills in helping clients to make behavioural changes for improved well-being.

Course Objectives

Healthcare professionals will be acquainted with key MI topics namely, evoking motivation to change.

At the end of the course, participants will be able to:

- understand the framework of MI
- apply MI strategies and techniques on clients to evoke change

Course Outline

- Motivational Interviewing: 30 Years of asking questions about change
