Dysfunctional Breathing Patterns: Pathology, Assessment and Management

3 – 5 Sep 2018

INTRODUCTION

This interactive 3 day course explores the complexities of breathing and breathing pattern disorders (BPDs), and their impact on performance and rehabilitation. Theoretical and practical issues relating to normal and abnormal breathing are considered. This includes physiology and patho-physiology, diagnosis (and differential diagnosis), assessment and management from both a physiotherapy and multi-disciplinary perspective. This course has relevance to all physiotherapists irrespective of their clinical area and is delivered by two experienced physiotherapy clinicians.

OBJECTIVES

1. Understand the anatomical, physiological, pathological and psychosocial bases of normal and abnormal breathing
2. Evaluate a variety of diagnostic, assessment and treatment strategies
3. Apply knowledge and skills to a range of different clinical, social and sporting contexts
4. Critically analyse the evidence supporting a range of assessment and treatment interventions designed to optimise breathing

COURSE OUTLINE

- Overview of Breathing Pattern Disorders (BPDs)
- Assessing people with breathing pattern disorders
- Anatomy & Physiology
- Treating people with breathing pattern disorders
- Role of the multi-disciplinary team (Health psychology in BPDs)
- Differential diagnosis
- Breathing changes with exercise and movement
- Nasal influences on breathing
- Different clinical perspectives and management approaches
