

A Taste of RAINBOW

TAM WAI JIA

A TASTE OF RAINBOW

*“Faith is being sure of what we hope for,
and certain of what we do not see.”
~ Hebrews 11:1*

Written and Illustrated by Tam Wai Jia

Also by Tam Wai Jia:

Kitesong

I Love You

Savour

To view the books online, visit www.kitesong.com

Email: hello@kitesong.com

Copyright © Tam Wai Jia 2011

All rights reserved.

Layout & Design by: Landmark Books

ISBN 978-981-2205-58-2

BSS 2016 2M

for those who long for hope,

and my loved ones,
for your faith in me.

i love ice-cream,

especially ice-cream with rainbow sprinkles.

When i was a little girl,
daddy would buy me my favourite ice-cream with rainbow sprinkles

whenever i was a good girl.

Rainbow sprinkles are the

BEST THINGS

in the world!

When i was bigger,
daddy let me buy my own
ice-cream with rainbow sprinkles

- but only when i thought i was a good girl.

Good girls are thin

and smart

and very, very beautiful.

i don't think i'm a good enough girl.

Someone once told me
i was not thin, or pretty enough.

Rainbow sprinkles don't taste so good anymore.

Sometimes i think
i'd die

just to be a little bit
taller, and thinner,

and a little bit

more beautiful.

Good girls never get mad or sad.

Why is it
so hard to be perfect?

or to be me?

i think i've lost a part of me.

Someone stole it in the night.

i've searched high

and low,

far,

and wide.

Still,
I could not find my mouth.

The heart is a hungry place.

Sometimes, you feel like giving up

and it feels like the storm will never end.

But it will.

Faith,
never lets you down.

Hold on.

Finding your mouth
takes courage.

it means

being brave

to ask for help,

and
being brave
to say you're feeling s a

a n d, g r y,
s c a r e d,

in s e c u r e,

w o r t h l e s s

It's okay to say
you're broken,

weak, or flawed.

↳

We all are.

If you really look,
you will find something
so beautiful
inside of you.

Beautiful child,
what is beautiful
is what the eye cannot see.

Everybody deserves
a taste of rainbow...

... including me.

When it rains on us, it feels like the storm will never end.
Fear, guilt and shame can overwhelm us.

The good news is that we are not alone.
Getting help is not a weakness, but a strength.

The bravest thing you could ever do,
is to tell someone and get help.

If you know someone suffering, share this book with them.

Take courage.
Have faith.

A rainbow awaits you.

“It has been an amazing journey to see Wai Fia’s transformation from a struggling patient to missionary doctor. Her journey of resilience makes her an authentic and inspirational role model, for young and old. As a healthcare professional who has practised for over 20 years, I believe this is a must-read for young women, parents, teachers, counsellors and those in healthcare.”

- Dr. Lee Ee Lian, Psychiatrist specializing in eating disorders

“Wai Fia’s courage will inspire many to take that first step towards recovery — we never need to walk alone. This book is a voice to those struggling in the darkness. May it bless you as much as it has blessed me and many others.”

- Anita Fam, Board Member, National Council of Social Service

“After suffering from an eating disorder for years, I knew I would either die from the illness or bounce back helping others. Like the little girl in this book, I reached out for help. Now years later as a counsellor, I find fulfilment each day helping others find their rainbow too. This book will bring you hope, healing and encouragement- as it did for me.”

- T, Counsellor

With special thanks to:
my family,
for your love,

my friends,
for your faith in me,

the team at Singapore General Hospital,
for instilling hope,

Dr Lee Ee Lian, Kim, Eck Kheng and Aunty Anita,
for your encouragement,

Cornerstone Community Church,
for transforming my life,

and God,
for rainbows.

Wai Jia is a medical doctor whose passion is serving the underprivileged. Having overcome depression and anorexia as a youth, her desire is to inspire young people find faith, hope and courage to live a life of resilience.

To find out more, visit www.kitesong.com/a-taste-of-rainbow.